Dear Neighbor,

I hope this message finds you well. As we turn the page to spring, here's information about what's happening in the 150th Legislative District and in Harrisburg.

Since we last spoke, my colleagues in Harrisburg and I have been working hard on legislation that ensures career paths in our Commonwealth are incentivized, our environment is protected, human service programs and veterans are supported, health care improvements are set in motion, and the rights of each and every Pennsylvanian are protected. Pennsylvanians are concerned about these and many other topics, and I share their concerns. Please continue to reach out to my office so I can have your priorities in front of me every day as I work alongside my colleagues to address your needs. As we approach the state budget cycle, my top priorities are securing proper funding for education, ensuring consistent support services for people with disabilities, and fulfilling infrastructure needs along with flood mitigation.

Throughout this newsletter, you will find more information about the proposed state budget introduced by Gov. Josh Shapiro; an in-depth look at legislation I have introduced this session and other bills and resolutions I'm supporting; updates on the Ridge Pike/Germantown Pike Traffic Circle and the Perkiomen Flood & Mitigation Study; upcoming events my office is hosting; and more!

Remember, if you need state-related assistance or have any questions, please contact my office at 484-200-8263 and a member of my staff will help you.

Sincerely,

Joseph G. Webster, Ph.D.
Colonel, USAF (ret)

In February I attended numerous weeks of budget hearings in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

I showcased some of the beautiful art from Perkiomen Valley High School students in my district office this winter!

In September I held a Witting Tree dedication in honor of Veterans Suicide Prevention Week.

I had a great time reading at The Pathway School for Literacy Celebration Week.

The Proposed State Budget

In February, Gov. Josh Shapiro delivered his annual budget address, and in the weeks that followed, we held budget hearings in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

The governor’s proposed budget would help pave the way for the future of Pennsylvania through continued historic investments in basic and special education, support for working families, and making our government work for the people. Basic and special education are one of my top priorities this legislative session, and over $1.2 million in additional funding is slated to enter our local school districts. Along with other investments, the proposal calls for a $5 million increase for the Vocational Rehabilitation Fund to help maintain services for Pennsylvanians with disabilities seeking employment.

Other critical investments in the proposal include raising the minimum wage to $15 per hour for non-tipped workers and $9 per hour for tipped workers and $55 million to support programs and workforce recruitment and retention in childcare.

These priorities are a snapshot of the many items contained in Pennsylvania’s proposed budget. We continue to work for a Commonwealth that is safe, forward-thinking and working for each and every Pennsylvanian.

If you take a trip to our beautiful State Capitol, make sure you tour the Pennsylvania House archives and check out my exhibit! I gladly donated my uniform and other pieces from my time in the service as part of an exhibit that honors state representatives who have served.

Perkiomen Mapping and Flood Mitigation Project

In February 2024, I announced that I had secured grant funding as part of the 2022-23 Pennsylvania state budget for the Perkiomen Mapping and Flood Mitigation Project. Through this funding, a team of experts led by Montgomery County launched Phase I to study flooding in the Perkiomen Watershed and identify mitigation methods. As of March 2025, progress is on schedule with a completion date estimated in mid to late August. To date, engineers have collected data from various sources, including direct correspondence with all 55 municipalities and the four counties within the Perkiomen Watershed. A hydrology and hydraulics model has been created using the PCSWMM model, a well-accepted model used by the Army Corps of Engineers. The model will help identify those areas most in jeopardy of flooding and causing property damage or risk to people.

The 20 Phase I flooding locations will be examined more closely to determine appropriate mitigation techniques, estimated costs, and an implementation plan. At least one demonstration project will be identified for planning-level design and construction.

The overall goal of the project is to identify the areas most at risk of flooding, identify potential mitigation strategies, and provide guidance for property owners going forward. More information can be found online at perkiomenwatershed.org/perkiomen-flood-study. Additional public information will be forthcoming later in the spring or early summer.

Critical to the success of the efforts to reduce flood damage in the watershed is participation by every property owner. Guidance for on-lot stormwater mitigation will be included in the final plan. Additionally, long-term funding for new and upgraded stormwater infrastructure will be needed. The plan will include grant and other funding options that municipalities can pursue to help accomplish the goals of the project.

Germantown Pike & Ridge Pike Roundabout Project

March 2025 Update

PennDOT's project to relocate part of Germantown Pike to form a roundabout and new intersection with Ridge Pike is underway. The final design includes a new intersection of relocated Germantown Pike with Ridge Pike approximately 1,300 feet east of the existing intersection. Two lanes of traffic (one in each direction) will be maintained throughout the reconstruction. Phase 1 of the project will include utility work, erosion and sedimentation controls, widening of the westbound lanes on Ridge Pike, beginning of the roundabout construction, and temporary signal modifications. Short term overnight detours may occur for drainage work between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. Completion of all five phases of the project will occur in the summer of 2028. The total estimated construction cost is $26,225,555.

The PennDOT project website is at:

<https://www.pa.gov/agencies/penndot/projects-near-you/district-6-projects/ridge-and-germantown-pikes-intersection-improvements.html>.

This office will provide additional updates as the project progresses.
